

HARRY C. BARKER.

Harry C. Barker, for years a baker at Dundas Street and Spadina Avenue, died yesterday at his home, 56 Spadina Road, after a long illness from heart trouble. Had he lived until Feb. 7 he would have been 70 years old. All his life he had been engaged in the bakery business and was very well known. Years ago he was an active member of the Elm Street Methodist Church, but latterly attended Trinity United Church. He was one of the oldest members of Zetland Masonic Lodge. Surviving are Mrs. Barker and three daughters, Mrs. A. P. Townley, Mrs. G. C. Knight and Mrs. W. L. Townley. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2 p.m.

GEORGE F. RONALD.

Death came suddenly yesterday morning to George Ferguson Ronald, 142 Dupont Street, in his seventy-fourth year. Stricken early in the morning, he died before the arrival of medical assistance. Mr. Ronald was born near Ayr, Scotland, but came to Canada with his parents at the age of 9. The family first settled in Minesing, Ont., coming to Toronto in 1880. Mr. Ronald had been connected with the publishing business from his youth, and latterly was with the F. N. Burt Co., Limited. He was a Liberal in politics, a member of Park Road Baptist Church, and the Sons of Scotland. His wife predeceased him in 1920. He is survived by two daughters, Miss Marlon and Miss Phemie, both at home; and one son, George F., of 20 Brownlow Avenue, and two sisters, Mrs. R. E. Fletcher of Toronto and Mrs. Wesley Orchard of Minesing.
